O'Keefe Gymnasium, home of the Yellow Jacket volleyball team since 1995, is one of the premier volleyball facilities in the Southeast. The site of 14 Georgia Tech matches in 2022, O'Keefe Gym is known for its rowdy atmosphere, excellent sight lines and loud acoustics.

Over the years, O'Keefe Gym has served multiple purposes. Originially utilized as the gymnasium for O'Keefe High School in the 1950's, the gym was given to Georgia Tech in the 1960's and served as the location for many club sports for the Institute.

Since 1995, the gym has undergone various renovation projects, including the addition of a new floor, which was installed following the 2003 season, and a new locker room, which was added prior to the 2006 season.

O'Keefe Gymnasium underwent a nearly $1 million dollar renovation in 2006, which included adding new home and visitors locker rooms, a coaches' lounge, training room, players' lounge and student-athlete study area to the facility. The Yellow Jackets' new lounge and locker room area is complete with leather couches, big-screen televisions, work stations, a pool table and serves as a location for team meetings before and after matches and practices.

Prior to the 2017 season, the court at O'Keefe was replaced with a brand new Taraflex floor. The new court is the same kind of court that has been used in 11 consecutive Olympic Games. It is valued for its shock absorption and injury prevention.

During the 2018 season, Tech played under a videoboard in O'Keefe Gymnasium for the first time.

O'KEEFE GYM

POINT TECH!

It symbolizes the unmatched atmosphere and unparalleled excitement that engulfs O'Keefe Gymnasium during Georgia Tech volleyball matches.

The rowdy crowds, which have consistently ranked in the top 50 nationally, follow each volley intently, rise to their feet and yell "POINT TECH" each time the Yellow Jackets score.

From the introductions to the pep band to post-match autographs, Georgia Tech is known for having the most loyal volleyball fans throughout the South.

HEAD COACH
USF, 2002
NINTH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH
@COLLMICH

Michelle Collier will enter her eighth year as head coach of the Georgia Tech volleyball team. She was named the eighth head volleyball coach at Georgia Tech in March 2014.

In her eighth season leading the Yellow Jackets, Collier took Georgia Tech to the Elite Eight of the 2021 NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship, tying 2003's squad for the best finish in program history. The White and Gold swept The Citadel, No. 17 WKU and No. 9 Ohio State on the way to the program's second ever Elite Eight. The tournament appearance marked Collier's second at Tech and the 11th for the program. Tech's eight seed in the tournament also marked the second-highest all time as the Yellow Jackets went on to finish ranked No. 7 in RPI and No. 8 by the AVCA, tied for the highest ranking at season's end in program history. Tech's back-to-back tournament appearances marked the first since five straight from 2000-04. On the stat sheet, Tech finished with some of the top numbers in the country, pacing the nation in kills per set (15.18) and assists per set (13.90). Based on the 2021 NCAA record book, Tech's kills per set mark is set to become an NCAA record as one of the top marks in the history of the sport. The Jackets were also sixth in the NCAA and second in the ACC in hitting percentage (0.291). Other notable numbers include ranking second in the ACC and 10th in the NCAA in kills (1,700), second in the conference and 14th in the country assists (1,557) and third in the league in digs per set (15.15). Collier also guided three Jackets on the way to all-American honors as outside hitters Julia Bergmann and Mariana Brambilla were each voted AVCA First Team All-Americans while setter Matti McKissock was named an AVCA All-America Honorable Mention for the second most all-American honors in a season for the White and Gold all time. Brambilla and Bergmann are the first Yellow Jackets to be named First Team All-Americans since Kele Eveland in 2003, previously the only player in ACC history to garner the recognition. Collier was also named AVCA Southeast Region Coach of the Year for her efforts as the same three Jackets were named all-region, on top of Bergmann's AVCA East Coast Region Player of the Year honors. Under Collier's tutelage, five Yellow Jackets were named All-ACC as Bergmann received the ACC Player of the Year award.

Through her seventh season at the helm and Tech's first season post Covid-19 pandemic, Collier led the Jackets to a 14-5 overall record with a 13-4 record in ACC play, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship for the first time since 2004. The berth in the Big Dance alone marked the 10th time in program history and the first for the Yellow Jackets since 2009 as Georgia Tech went on to win its first NCAA Tournament win in nearly 17 years. Tech was nationally ranked by the AVCA Coaches poll all season, reaching as high as No. 8 and coming in at No. 22 at the end of the season after spending multiple weeks atop the ACC. With individuals, Collier also groomed a pair of all-Americans in Mariana Brambilla (AVCA Division I Third Team All-American, All-ACC First Team) and Julia Bergmann (AVCA Division I Honorable Mention All-America, All-ACC First Team).

In 2019, Collier was named ACC Coach of the Year and AVCA Region Coach of the Year in 2019 for leading the Jackets to its first NIVC Championship and second-place finish in the ACC after a 11th-place projected finish in preseason. It marked the Jackets' highest finish in conference play since 2004 when they went undefeated to claim the regular season title. The Yellow Jackets finished the regular season with a 21-8 record, its first 20-win season since 2016. Collier is only the third Georgia Tech head coach to earn the honor.

She brought the Jackets back to the postseason for the first time since 2009 with an NIVC berth in the 2018 season. She also led Tech to its first postseason victory since 2004 with its win over USF in the opening round of the 2018 NIVC. In 2017, she recorded her first win over a top-25 opponents with a 3-1 win over Michigan State. She recorded her 100th career win on Sept. 8, 2017 with a 3-2 win over Kansas State in O'Keefe Gymnasium.

In her second season at the helm of the Yellow Jacket program, Collier coached the Jackets to their best record since 2012 (18-14 overall, and 9-11 in ACC play). The program eclipsed 700 wins overall and had 641 at the Division I level at the end of the season with key road victories at Virginia Tech and Clemson, and a sweep of Duke at home. Her third season, 2016 was the most successful since 2004. The Jackets posted a 24-8 record overall with a 15-5 mark in ACC play. The Jackets boasted an impressive 11-2 record at home and notched key road wins over Duke and NC State.

The Jackets finished 2015 with 1,637 kills, which are the most since 2010. Tech started the season 9-2 for its best start since 2012, and went on an eight-match winning streak for the longest winning streak since 2006. Collier coached Teegan Van Gunst to AVCA honorable mention All-America honors, AVCA All-region honors and an All-ACC First Team selection.

Named the eighth head volleyball coach at Georgia Tech in March 2014, Collier led the Yellow Jackets to improvements of more than 100 kills than the 2013 team and with a better hitting percentage (.216 to .182). In addition, the team finished better in almost every statistical category from a year ago.

Collier was named the 2013 Atlantic Sun Conference Coach of the Year after leading Jacksonville to an NCAA Tournament appearance.

In just two years at Jacksonville, Collier helped develop the Dolphins into the A-Sun's dominant program. In 2013, Jacksonville posted a 30-4 overall record and earned the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2004.

Collier coached both the sand volleyball and indoor volleyball programs at Jacksonville in 2012 and 2013. During her two years with the Dolphins, they improved their RPI by more than 50 combined points and enjoyed their highest ranking in nearly a decade. Her 2013 team swept the Atlantic Sun Conference regular season and tournament championships and her players dominated the league's individual postseason awards.

Prior to her tenure at Jacksonville, Collier served two seasons (July, 2010-February, 2012) as an assistant coach at South Carolina, including a three-month stint as the Gamecocks' temporary head coach. In 2011, Collier helped the Gamecocks to a seven-win improvement which ranked as second-best jump in school history. The Gamecocks improved in nearly every category, including posting a hitting percentage 45 points better than in 2010.

Before working at South Carolina, Collier spent two seasons as an assistant at South Florida, where she was responsible for the outside hitters and headed up international recruiting. She helped the Bulls to finishes in the top half of Big East Conference each year, while raising their RPI by 100 points.

As a student-athlete at USF, Collier ranks among the greatest collegiate volleyball players of all-time. She ranks fifth in NCAA Division I history with 2,729 career kills and ranks in the Bulls' top-10 in numerous career and single-season categories. She holds the top spot in USF history in two career categories (kills and digs, 1,747) and set three single-season marks during the 2000 season. After coming back from an injury that sidelined her in 1999, Collier compiled 760 kills, 1,873 attacks and 6.28 kills per set.

A two-time Conference USA Player of the Year and a 2002 All-American, she claimed the league's Player of the Decade in 2004. She also earned the C-USA Freshman of the Year award in 1998 and led USF to three of the program's seven NCAA Tournament appearances. USF went 120-48 during her three years, claiming two C-USA titles and one C-USA tournament crown during her four-year career. Collier is the only volleyball player in USF history to have her jersey retired. She joined the USF Hall of Fame in 2011, the first Bulls volleyball player to earn that honor.

Before coaching, Collier played professional volleyball for four years in a global tour that took her to Cyprus, Indonesia, Puerto Rico, Spain and The Netherlands. Among the many accolades that she accumulated include the Indonesian League MVP and Cyprus' Best Foreign Player.

Fluent in English, Spanish and Portuguese, Collier graduated from USF in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in web design and international relations.

Collier is married to Rafael Silva, who played volleyball for nine years in the top divisions of both Brazil and Spain. The couple has one daughter, Tais, and one son, Rafael.

ASSISTANT COACHES

ARIELLE WILSON

ASSISTANT COACH
PENN STATE, 2011
FOURTH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH
@MISSREL7

Wilson is entering her fourth season as an assistant coach at Georgia Tech. She was named as an assistant coach in 2019.

In her third season on The Flats, Georgia Tech advanced to the Elite Eight of the 2021 NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship, tying 2003's squad for the best finish in program history. The White and Gold swept The Citadel, No. 17 WKU and No. 9 Ohio State on the way to the program's second ever Elite Eight. The tournament appearance marked the second with Wilson on staff at Tech and the 11th for the program. Tech's eight seed in the tournament also marked the second-highest all time as the Yellow Jackets went on to finish ranked No. 7 in RPI and No. 8 by the AVCA, tied for the highest ranking at season's end in program history. Tech's back-to-back tournament appearances marked the first since five straight from 2000-04. On the stat sheet, Tech finished with some of the top numbers in the country, pacing the nation in kills per set (15.18) and assists per set (13.90). Based on the 2021 NCAA record book, Tech's kills per set mark is set to become an NCAA record as one of the top marks in the history of the sport. The Jackets were also sixth in the NCAA and second in the ACC in hitting percentage (0.291). Other notable numbers include ranking second in the ACC and 10th in the NCAA in kills (1,700), second in the conference and 14th in the country assists (1,557) and third in the league in digs per set (15.15). Wilson also assisted three Jackets on the way to all-American honors as outside hitters Julia Bergmann and Mariana Brambilla were each voted AVCA First Team All-Americans while setter Matti McKissock was named an AVCA All-America Honorable Mention for the second most all-American honors in a season for the White and Gold all time. Brambilla and Bergmann are the first Yellow Jackets to be named First Team All-Americans since Kele Eveland in 2003, previously the only player in ACC history to garner the recognition. The same three Jackets were named all-region, on top of Bergmann's AVCA East Coast Region Player of the Year honors. Five Yellow Jackets were named All-ACC on the season as Bergmann received the ACC Player of the Year award.

In 2020, the Jackets reached new heights with the help of Wilson by advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship for the first time since 2004 to finish with a 14-5 overall record with a 13-4 record in ACC play. Tech won its first NCAA Tournament win in nearly 17 years and was nationally ranked by the AVCA Coaches poll all season, reaching as high as No. 8 and coming in at No. 22 at the end of the season after spending multiple weeks atop the ACC. The berth in the Big Dance alone marked the 10th time in program history and the first for the Yellow Jackets since 2009. Tech also went on an eight-match winning streak, including five straight sweeps. The Jackets swept 10 opponents out of 14 wins on the season with five more sweeps in the spring as their 10 ACC sweeps were the most conference sweeps in the league on the year. On the stat sheet, the Yellow Jackets finished 10th in the country and led the ACC in hitting percentage (0.285) while ranking second in the ACC in assists per set (12.81) and kills per set (13.78).

In 2019, Wilson helped lead the Jackets to its first NIVC Championship and second-place finish in the ACC after a 11th-place projected finish in preseason. It marked the Jackets' highest finish in conference play since 2004 when they went undefeated to claim the regular season title. The Yellow Jackets finished the regular season with a 21-8 record, its first 20-win season since 2016 when the Jackets went 24-8.

Wilson, a native of Broadview, Ill., comes to The Flats from Michigan State, where she served as the volunteer assistant for the Spartans during the 2018 season. Wilson specialized in middle blocker training and team blocking.

Prior to coaching at Michigan State University, Wilson was an assistant coach at DePaul University and part-time coach for the outdoor beach volleyball program with 1st Alliance Volleyball Club, located near Chicago. While at DePaul, she worked extensively with the team's middle blockers. During the 2016 season, DePaul had its first All-BIG EAST first team member (Brittany Maxwell) and the Blue Demons won a program-best seven BIG EAST contests. Middle blocker Jasmine King was a Second Team All-BIG EAST selection under the guidance of Wilson. Her duties also included spearheading the team's community outreach activities. At 1st Alliance, she was able to train and develop middle blockers that currently represent some of the very best volleyball conferences in the country.

Wilson, having been raised in a hot bed for volleyball, has strong recruiting ties to several clubs in Chicago and its surrounding areas as well as around the country. These ties and her relationship skills aided her successful recruiting at DePaul. Since Wilson has been at Georgia Tech as a recruiting coordinator her connections to the southeast have increased and she has even built more west coast and east coast ties/relationships.

Prior to Wilson's time at Georgia Tech, she was able to play professionally overseas for five years. As a professional athlete she was able to play, interact, and adapt to many different coaches and players, helping my ability to network at the international level. The opportunity to work with people from different walks of life has opened her eyes to various styles of coaching.

As a collegiate athlete, she was extremely fortunate to train in a national championship culture and to play amongst the world's best athletes at Penn State University. During her four-year tenure, she had the pleasure of being part of one of the best and most successful volleyball teams in the history of NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball, winning four consecutive National Championships.

Wilson has great perspective and success at coaching middle blockers and team defense. She has also had experience with coaching blocking technique and block scheming as it pertains to team defense. Wilson is also able to help assist our team in knowing/scouting what offense Tech's opponents were running and where Tech should focus when it came to defense.

SUPPORT STAFF

JILL JAMESON

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS
NORTHERN IOWA, 1993
SIXTH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

Jill Jameson joined the Georgia Tech volleyball staff in June 2017 as the director of operations.

Jameson arrived on The Flats in November 2016 as the administrative coordinator for women's basketball before transitioning into her role with the volleyball team.

Jameson brought over two decades of experience in collegiate coaching and operations to The Flats. She came to Tech after spending five years as Director of Basketball Operations at Wisconsin where she oversaw all administrative aspects of the women's basketball program including the budget, game scheduling and daily logistics of the program.

Prior to Wisconsin, Jameson spent seven years at Virginia Tech in the same role. While with the Hokies, Jameson provided support in the overall day-to-day operations of women's basketball. Jameson spent nearly 10 years as an assistant women's basketball coach before turning to the operations side. She began her coaching career at Virginia Tech while also holding stints at Francis Marion, University of Tennessee Chattanooga and Marquette where she helped lead programs to conference championships and NCAA tournaments.

SCOTT MCDONALD

DIRECTOR OF OLYMPIC SPORTS PLAYER DEVELOPMENT
ALABAMA, 1993
25TH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

Scott McDonald joined Georgia Tech as a player development coach in August 1997 after three years in a similar capacity at Florida State where he worked with the football program from 1994-97.

His current title is director of Olympic sports player development.

McDonald currently oversees the strength and conditioning programs for the Georgia Tech women's basketball, volleyball, and women's tennis programs.

He previously oversaw the strength programs for men's basketball for 14 seasons, track & field for 13 seasons, golf for two seasons, and assisted football for four seasons on The Flats.

McDonald has been responsible for the development and implementation of strength training regimes for many student-athletes that have gone on to the NFL, NBA, WNBA, PGA, WTA, and has competed in the Olympics.

He was recognized as a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach (MSCC) by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) in 2013. He is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) and a Certified Club Coach by USA Weightlifting.

McDonald is a 1993 graduate from the University of Alabama with a bachelor's degree in sports fitness management.

Jameson earned a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education from the University of Northern Iowa and a Master of Science in Education from Virginia Tech.

CARLA GILSON

ASSOCIATE AD/SPORTS MEDICINE
TULANE, 1993
25TH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

A member of Georgia Tech athletics staff for 25 years, including as the Yellow Jackets' director of sports medicine for the past four years, Carla Gilson was promoted to associate athletics director for sports medicine in 2022.

In her expanded role, Glison oversees the day-to-day functions of Georgia Tech's sports medicine operations and staff, with a focus on the support and care of student-athletes' physical, mental and overall health needs. She also serves as the primary athletic trainer for the Yellow Jackets' nationally ranked volleyball program.

Gilson came to Georgia Tech at the beginning of the 1997-98 academic year as an assistant athletic trainer. She was promoted to associate athletic trainer in 2008, a role she held until she was promoted to director of sports medicine in 2018. During her quarter-decade on The Flats, she has served as an athletic trainer for the Yellow Jackets' women's basketball, football, softball, tennis, track and field, volleyball and spirit teams.

During her time on The Flats, Gilson co-founded Tech's "Life Now, Life Later" mentor program for female African-American student-athletes and has served on the athletics department's equity and compliance committee and as a member of the Yellow Jackets' Fellowship of Christian Athletes mentor team. Additionally, she served as a panelist for Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference's Women in Leadership workshop and as a featured presenter at the National Athletic Trainers Association's Ethnic Diversity Advisory Committee meeting.

Prior to her arrival at Georgia Tech, Gilson served as a graduate assistant at East Tennessee State from 1995-97, where she was the primary athletic trainer for ETSU's men's and women's track and field teams and earned a master's degree in health and physical education/fitness leadership. She received a bachelor's degree in management from Tulane in 1993.
